Who is containers direct?

Quality you can see, experience you can trust. Containers Direct is an award winning, nationwide supplier of shipping containers. Containers Direct are one of the leading suppliers of new shipping containers, used containers and converted containers.

Why do shipping containers direct work with second-hand shipping containers?

The production of a shipping container is carbon intensive so Containers Direct specialise in working with second-hand shipping containers after they've been released from their working life on shipping fleets. They are given a new lease of life by repurposing them with a low carbon footprint in our in-house depot.
