

If your solar installation is not properly permitted, you may face fines, penalties, or even forced system removal. These legal battles can be time-consuming, costly, and highly stressful, making your solar ...

Many companies allegedly participate in fraudulent practices in an attempt to scam homeowners out of their money. Despite this issue, the solar industry is continuing to broaden its reach.

It's likely a scam. While there are some government-funded solar programs for households that qualify, "going solar" isn't free. Honest businesses will tell you exactly how much it'll ...

The Federal Trade Commission is getting tired of dealing with all the solar panel scam complaints and warns consumers what to watch out for.

These bad actors prey on homeowners' lack of knowledge about solar technology and incentive programs, using deceptive tactics to close deals and maximize profits. This article explores ...

To avoid getting scammed, you need to know what to look out for and when to walk away. Here's our guide to spotting solar panel scams and finding a great installer. If something you see or hear from a ...

Scammers across the U.S. are going door-to-door, pitching "free" solar energy systems. Many homeowners never get any solar equipment installed; those who do often get shoddy work. ...

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn more about some of the most likely scams you may face when trying to go solar.

No information about the cost to remove or transfer solar panels, which could lead you to believe you have future options that might not be available or affordable

If you've been approached by someone offering to install solar panels at no cost or promising you'll never have to pay another electricity bill, be careful--it's likely a scam."

If your solar installation is not properly permitted, you may face fines, penalties, ...

Web: <https://black-hat.co.za>